Summary

I am pursuing Web development.

I am studing in Aspire College Kamoke.

Interested in coding. I am going to do software engineering as a career. I might lack a little bit but I continuously trying to improve myself with determination. I have learnt basic HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript and learning node.js now.

Outside of tech, I love tea and spending my time exploring about new thing.

Experience

LensiMark

Frontend Developer

June 2024 - Present (1 year 5 months)

Islamabad, Islāmābād, Pakistan

I began my career as a web developer with this remote role, where I contribute to small-scale frontend projects while studying in college. My work involves building responsive user interfaces using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, and learning modern frameworks under the guidance of experienced developers. This role allows me to gain real-world experience, improve my development skills, and apply what I learn in both academic and professional settings.
